

“And Jesus increased in wisdom and in stature and in favor with God”. Luke, the physician, wrote this to ensure that Gentile Christians understood the Gospel message of Jesus. Was Jesus worth following? Two millenniums later, the people that come through our doors, continue to probe this vital question.

The current “Courageous Parenting” course is progressing well. Participants share similar desires. Reoccurring themes regarding their children harken back to Luke’s declaration. Parents want their kids to grow in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and people. These courageous parents are realizing that INFLUENCE, (not control) must be their driving motivation. And they’ve developed a growing awareness that the primary question to struggle through continues to be, “Is Jesus worth following?”

The new Courageous Parenting class will start the first week of February. God’s kingdom is advancing on many fronts! Thank you for your continued and valued involvement with this vibrant ministry.

Our prayer, for this coming year, is that our Genesis Institute readers will say YES to the Christ of Christmas... Emmanuel, the God with us who daily invites both our trust and our company. No matter the cost, may we continue to seek and find all the promises of God fulfilled in Jesus.
