

Holding On To Hope In God

Though our faith may waiver, God's faithfulness will not!

I recently met with a friend who is feeling weary and wrestling with disappointment and despair. She asked me, "Will peace ever trump this pain? Will joy ever replace this sadness? Will beauty ever grow from this brokenness?"

I have asked the same questions before- maybe you have too. In these 'long nights of the soul' we find great comfort in scripture, especially the Psalms.

So I pushed my worries aside and assured my friend that the darkness would not last forever.

When I walked away from meeting with her, I said a prayer for her. I then thanked God for the job I have and how blessed I am to work at Genesis. This is what we do every day at Genesis; we offer the hope of healing to all.

I also asked Jesus to be with us this New Year, to guide us and help us.

Will you join us as we bring this message of hope in Jesus to the hurting in our community? We need your prayers and financial support to keep this ministry going.

Blessings to all of you – and Happy New Year!

Psalms 59:16 NLT "But as for me, I will sing about your power. Each morning I will sing with joy about your unfailing love. For you have been my refuge, a place of safety when I am in distress.

Romans 8:38-39 "And I am convinced that nothing can ever separate us from God's love. Neither death nor life, neither angels nor demons,³⁸ neither our fears for today nor our worries about tomorrow—not even the powers of hell can separate us from God's love. ³⁹No power in the sky above or in the earth below—indeed, nothing in all creation will ever be able to separate us from the love of God that is revealed in Christ Jesus our Lord."
