

The Privilege of Serving One Another

As I ponder the offerings of the Genesis Institute, I realize what a great opportunity we have before us to serve. “Serve who?” you may ask. In our Courageous Parenting class, parents better serve their kids by learning to build in love and wisely challenging foolishness in kids’ hearts. Through the Core Concepts curriculum, we learn to serve one another and put value and worth on human relationships by investing in a life through mentorship. Our one-one-one counseling serves others by bringing hope back into lives dashed by broken relationships, circumstances of life or by addictions that have taken them captive. Spiritual Formation is the restoration of God’s image within us. Christ had the ultimate servant’s heart. His sacrifice and offer of eternal life changes our hearts towards others. That’s a great story to share!

We thank you so much for reading our newsletters and supporting the Genesis Ministry through your finances and prayers. You are helping make all this happen!
