

Meet Our Newest Board Members

Bob Bishopp was born and raised in Colorado. After a short stint in Texas, his family moved to Olympia, Washington where he graduated from North Thurston High School. It was there that he met the woman who would become his wife of 49 years, Margaret Noren, now Meg Bishopp. Both Bob and Meg graduated from Washington State University in 1970. Prior to his graduation from WSU, Bob began his career with Northwestern Mutual. Bob and Meg moved to Spokane in 1980 to raise their family. Bob recently retired from Northwestern after a 49 year career as a wealth management advisor. He is currently the President of the Innovia Foundation (formerly the Inland Northwest Community Foundation) Board of Directors. He is also a co-founder and former Board Chairman of Genesis Institute. Bob has been a member of His Song, a men's gospel singing group, since 2000. Bob and Meg have four children and nine grandchildren. They enjoy golf, travel and WSU football. They attend Whitworth Community Presbyterian Church where Meg recently became a deacon.

Bob has not been on the Board at Genesis since 2004, however he has continued to be supportive of Genesis in a variety of less visible ways. He has agreed to rejoin the board because, in his words, "I want to be a part of the next chapter of what God does at Genesis as we continue to encourage people to discover their story and live from their heart. Genesis offers a unique, biblical and transformative message to people struggling to relate well with God and one another in the midst of life's many challenges."

Sean O'Regan was born and raised in Spokane, Washington. He did spend a little bit of time in Montana and Arizona, and after six years came back and finished a degree from Eastern Washington University. The last thirteen years have been in banking and finance for various companies.

With his wife of thirteen years, he has three girls and two grandchildren. Life is busy and fast paced. His passion is for spiritual warfare and the condition of the heart.

Genesis is a good fit for that very reason. The enemy is continually attacking our knowledge, self-worth, and luring us into places that take away our focus from the Lord. Genesis does a great job putting this into perspective through counseling, life training, and resource recommendations.
