

Trusting God During Transitions

In the midst of change, we may question God's plan and wish we could gain wisdom to understand. Proverbs tells us that to find wisdom, we must first fear the Lord.

We can look back and see what God did in our lives and know that it was His will, but we can't look forward and see God's will. We have to go where God leads. We have to trust in his leading and not our own understanding.

- We remember what God's Word teaches.
- We choose love and faithfulness.
- We submit to Him our desires and plans.
- We live in awe of the Lord and run from evil.
- We fear the Lord.
- We honor God in our spending.
- We trust in God, even when we do not understand His plan.

A Note From Our Board of Directors

Dave and Cathy Hutchins are taking a restorative leave of absence from Genesis for the replenishment of their own souls. Their labors have been long in the lives of others over the last 24 years, and with that comes fatigue, that must at times, be addressed in more intensive ways for their replenishment and restoration for them. They want you to know that the mission, people, and ongoing ministries are vital to continuing God's good work. They both ask you faithfully pray, volunteer and continue to financially support the critical work in the lives of hundreds of people seeking out our ministries.

We want you to know that in the interim, Linda Depew will be the Managing Director. In addition, Mark Cornelius will be temporarily stepping into the Clinical Director role and working with our counselors. Mark has been a part of our Board for a number of years and is the Director of our 'sister' organization, Genesis Associates, in Coeur d'Alene. Mark and Dave went to graduate school together as well.

“Lord, WE believe that you are powerful, mighty, majestic, and perfect.

WE believe that you can work this situation out for your glory and our good. Lord, WE believe that you will take action, answer our prayer, and direct our path. WE believe.”
