

New, But Not!!

My name is Elaine Watts and I have been part of Genesis Institute serving on the Board of Directors for 5+ years as well as teaching a spiritual formation course, Wonder of Woman. That's the old part. The new gig is as Soul Care Development Director. To be honest, this role is evolving! It's exciting, stretching and downright intimidating at times!! The bottom line is I have been commissioned to lead our Soul Care Development branch. That means I am looking at the classes we currently offer as well as adding a NEW CLASS, "Discovering the Meaning of Marriage & Singleness"!! We have been looking at ways to get what we offer to those who may not be able to commit to a 12-14 week class. To that end we are working on creating SEMINARS that will get some information from our courses pared down to a 3-4 hour format that we offer to churches in our region. SO, talk it up, please! If you need information to take to your pastors, let me know!! Has there been a specific stumbling block that prevents your participation in a class? I would love to hear from you! You can email me at elaine@genesisinstitute.org

For those of you who are interested in my experience and background. Read on.

Otherwise, you're done! In my past life I've worn several different hats as wife & mom to three adopted children and now Grammie to two granddaughters. I hold a graduate degree in education and taught school in three states prior to moving to Spokane; operated a private practice as certified Educational Therapist, have been privileged to serve on staff in two local churches and on a teaching team in both. I am a graduate of the Renovare' Institute for Spiritual Formation and facilitate two small 'book clubs' when I'm not caring for my 98-year-old dad and 93-year-old mom. In my spare time, my favorite things to do are outdoors – kayaking, hiking, walking the dog, snowshoeing, etc. God's creation points to His astounding beauty and creativity!!
